

Developmental Psychology: Case Study Analysis

✓ Exclusively available on IvyPanda

Introduction

Developmental psychology is a significant study of human development, including cognitive, physical, perceptual, intellectual, social, emotional growth, and personality. Moreover, psychosocial development is based on a person's individual needs, followed by social needs. Psychosocial development encompasses all of life, from the moment of birth until death. The theory of psychosocial development was developed by the well-known psychologist Erik Erikson. Furthermore, this essay aims to address the depth and insights of two case studies aligning three psychosocial issues and relevant theories followed by multiple perspectives on it and the linkages (Maree, 2021). Case studies are crucial methodologies in the context of developmental psychology. The interventions will be based on insightful and proposed strategies, contextualized with theories and case studies.

Insight and depth

In the first case study, the depth and insights are based on the life experiences of David. Currently, he is facing three psychosocial issues, namely- substance abuse, anxiety, and depression, as identified clearly from the evidence.

A second Case study is about a 26-year-old lady having violence, anger & depression.

Case study 1 background: David has just completed his graduation and is on the verge of making his prospects. However, due to familial issues and peer pressure, he engaged himself in aspects of substance abuse and depression. David had a troubled childhood due to occasional fights and conflicting issues among his parents that later in his life provoked him to engage in excessive alcohol consumption, drugs, cigarettes, and immoral activities. Obviously, he had been a victim & has witnessed his mother getting victimized by his father's physical abuse, including kicking, hitting, and locking
