In the Circles of Fear and Desire William Patrick Day, 1985-01-01 Spinning the Moon Karen White, 2016-09-06 Time and again New York Times bestselling author Karen White has proven herself to be the ultimate voice of women's fiction. Now you can revisit the beginning of her signature style in two of her earliest novels, completely revised and together in one volume for the first time. In The Shadow of the Moon, when Laura Truitt first sees the dilapidated plantation house she is overcome by a sense of familiarity. Inside the owner claims to have been waiting for years and offers an old photograph of a woman with Laura's face. Soon afterwards when a lunar eclipse inexplicably thrusts Laura back in time to Civil War Georgia she finds herself fighting not just for her heart but for her very survival. Whispers of Goodbye Alone and with nothing left to fear Catherine deClaire Reed answers her sister's desperate plea and travels to the cold comfort of her home in Reconstruction Louisiana. But Elizabeth is nowhere to be found. No one including her husband has seen her for days. Now Catherine must search for her sister in a place where secrets wait behind every closed door.

The Wizard of Mecosta: Russell Kirk, Gothic Fiction, and the Moral Imagination Camilo Peralta, 2024 The Wizard of Mecosta offers an extended analysis of the fiction of Russell Amos Kirk 1918-1994 a central figure in modern American conservatism who is often referred to as the father of the same. Born and raised in Michigan Kirk was also a prolific writer of fiction who published almost two dozen short stories and three novels over the course of his long career. At the heart of everything Kirk wrote was what he referred to as the moral imagination a phrase he borrowed from Edmund Burke and often used to describe the instructive and enlightening purposes of great literature. Despite his prominent reputation as a public man of letters and the respect of fellow authors including Ray Bradbury and Stephen King Kirk's fiction was never very popular and has fallen into almost complete obscurity in the present. The Wizard of Mecosta is the first full length study ever published about Kirk's fiction and the only work of any length to consider the entirety of his output including all of the stories and novels he wrote. By emphasizing how Kirk's fiction illuminates certain aspects of his social and political theory The Wizard of Mecosta distinguishes itself from the half dozen or more studies of the author's life and work that have been published since his death in 1994. It should appeal to anyone with an interest in American conservatism as well as fans and scholars of the sort of Gothic horror in which Kirk unexpectedly excelled. Through his stories of avenging ghosts and timeless journeys through the afterlife he reminds us of the existence of permanent things the core values and beliefs of Western society which he strove all his life to preserve. It is high time that his fiction found a more appreciative and larger audience.

Gothic Fiction. The stereotypical depiction of women as femmes fatales or damsels in distress in "The Italian" and "The Monk" ,2016-05-09 Pre University Paper from the year 2011 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 0 language English abstract It is typical that women in early Gothic Fiction are either portrayed as femmes fatales or damsels in distress In the following this statement will be proved and studied First of all the content of both The Italian and The Monk will be shortly reviewed the chosen women in the novels will be compared to each other in terms of both visual and characteristic descriptions Then their relationships to other figures appearing in the stories will be analysed and in the end a brief conclusion will be drawn Catherine Morland is the young heroine of Jane Austen s novel Northanger Abbey that is probably the most famous parody on the Gothic Fiction stories which were pretty popular in the late 18th century Catherine is likely the classic Gothic Fiction reader naive easy to excite and blessed with a strong imagination Between the pages of her favourite novels she meets terrible villains dark settings mysterious secrets adventurous flights cold vaults bad monks bleeding nuns heroic men and threatened maidens She gets lost in those stories and the lines between her reality and the written fiction fade The two mentioned novels Catherine reads are The Monk by Matthew Lewis and The Italian by Ann Radcliffe which show these two opposite stereotypes of women pretty well Both novels have examples for the damsel in distress but only The Monk gives one for the femme fatale So this seminar paper will focus on Lewis character Matilda as an example for the femme fatale and on Radcliffe s Ellena embodying the damsel in distress to explain the main theory
