Consumption Food And Taste:

Consumption, Food and Taste Alan Warde,1997-02-17 Exploring the expression of taste through the processes of consumption this book provides an incisive and accessible evaluation of the current theories of consumption and trends in the representation and purchase of food Alan Warde outlines various theories of change in the twentieth century and considers the parallels between their diagnoses of consumer behaviour and actual trends in food practices He argues that dilemmas of modern practical life and certain imperatives of the culture of consumption make sense of food selection He suggests that contemporary consumption is best viewed as a process of continual selection among an unprecedented range of generally accessible items which are made available both commercially and informally

The Cultural Politics of Food, Taste, and Identity Steffan Igor Ayora-Diaz,2021-04-08 The Cultural Politics of Food Taste and Identity examines the social cultural and political processes that shape the experience of taste The book positions flavor as involving all the senses and describes the multiple ways in which taste becomes tied to local translocal glocal and cosmopolitan politics of identity Global case studies are included from Japan China India Belize Chile Guatemala the United States France Italy Poland and Spain Chapters examine local responses to industrialized food and the heritage industry and look at how professional culinary practice has become foundational for local identities The book also discusses the unfolding construction of local taste in the context of sociocultural developments and addresses how cultural political divides are created between meat consumption and vegetarianism innovation and tradition heritage and social class popular food and authenticity and street and restaurant food In addition contributors discuss how different food products such as kimchi quinoa and Soylent have entered the international market of industrial and heritage foods connecting different places and shaping taste and political identities
