Contemporary American Cinema:

Contemporary American Cinema Williams, Linda Ruth, Hammond, Michael, 2006-05-01 This is a comprehensive introduction to post classical American film Covering American cinema since 1960 the text looks at both Hollywood and non mainstream cinema

Film Firsts Ethan Alter, 2014-02-17 Alter examines 25 key movies that demonstrated a significant creative technological or business innovation that impacted the American cinema industry at large

Contemporary Latin American Cinema Deborah Shaw, 2007-04-09 This engaging book explores some of the most significant films to emerge from Latin America since 2000 an extraordinary period of international recognition for the region's cinema Each chapter assesses an individual film with some contributors considering the reasons for the unprecedented commercial and critical successes of movies such as City of God The Motorcycle Diaries Y tu mamá también and Nine Queens while others examine why equally important films failed to break out on the international circuit Written by leading specialists the chapters not only offer textual analysis but also trace the films social context and production conditions as well as critical national and transnational issues Their well rounded analyses provide a rich picture of the state of contemporary filmmaking in a range of Latin American countries Nuanced and thought provoking the readings in this book will provide invaluable interpretations for students and scholars of Latin American film

Contributions by Sarah Barrow Nuala Finnegan David William Foster Miraim Haddu Geoffrey Kantaris Deborah Shaw Lisa Shaw Rob Stone Else R P Vieira and Claire Williams

Millennial Masculinity Timothy Shary, 2013 Examines male representation in films released at the turn of the twenty first century from 1990 to present

The Political Thriller in Contemporary American Cinema Krešimir Bobaš, 2026 The Political Thriller in Contemporary American Cinema examines how the political thriller films de construct and reflect the sociopolitical realities of the second half of the twentieth as well as the first two decades of the twenty first century The book highlights the convergence between the cinematic narrative its underlying political discourse as well as the audience's perception of it Through a critical lens it analyzes how contemporary films utilize characterization narrative and suspense to examine topics of governance malfeasance and power dynamics By referring to films such as The Manchurian Candidate Zero Dark Thirty and Snowden this book traces the evolution of the political thriller questioning how its narratives mirror issues such as covert operations erosion of democracy and governmental surveillance In turn the conspiratorial and underlying paranoid nature of these films serves as a reflection of societal anxieties as well as a metaphorization of the levers of power in America's modern day democracy Consequently this book serves as a contribution to the growing body of research on political cinema and the way it simultaneously reflects and shapes political life through its role as a sociocultural phenomenon In doing so it invites readers to further delve into the exploration of these films which represent complex commentaries on the structures of corporations media and military that are predominant in contemporary American society and cinema

Generation Multiplex Timothy Shary, 2009-01-27 When teenagers began hanging out at the mall in the early 1980s the movies followed Multiplex theaters offered teens a wide array of perspectives on the coming of age experience as well as an escape into the alternative worlds of science fiction and horror Youth films remained a popular and profitable genre through the 1990s offering teens a place to reflect on their evolving identities from adolescence to adulthood while simultaneously shaping and maintaining those identities Drawing examples from hundreds of popular and lesser known youth themed films Timothy Shary here offers a comprehensive examination of the representation of teenagers in American cinema in the 1980s and 1990s He focuses on five subgenres school delinquency horror science and romance sexuality to explore how they represent teens and their concerns how these representations change over time and how youth movies both mirror and shape societal expectations and fears about teen identities and roles He concludes that while some teen films continue to exploit various notions of youth sexuality and violence most teen films of the past generation have shown an increasing diversity of adolescent experiences and have been sympathetic to the particular challenges that teens face

Contemporary American Science Fiction Film Terence McSweeney, Stuart Joy, 2022-02-21 Contemporary American Science Fiction Film explores and interrogates a diverse variety of popular and culturally relevant American science fiction films made in the first two decades of the new millennium offering a ground breaking investigation of the impactful role of genre cinema in the modern era Placing one of the most popular and culturally resonant American film genres broadly within its rich social historical industrial and political context the book interrogates some of the defining critical debates of the era via an in depth analysis of a range of important films An international team of authors draw on case studies from across the science fiction genre to examine what these films can tell us about the time period how the films themselves connect to the social and political context how the fears and anxieties they portray resonate beyond the screen and how the genre responds to the shifting coordinates of the Hollywood film industry Offering new insights and perspectives on the cinematic science fiction genre this volume will appeal primarily to scholars and students of film television cultural and media studies as well as anyone interested in science fiction and speculative film

David J. Leonard, 2006-06-30 The triple crown of Oscars awarded to Denzel Washington Halle Berry and Sidney Poitier on a single evening in 2002 seemed to mark a turning point for African Americans in cinema Certainly it was hyped as such by the media eager to overlook the nuances of this sudden embrace In this new study author David Leonard uses this event as a jumping off point from which to discuss the current state of African American cinema and the various genres that currently compose it Looking at such recent films as Love and Basketball Antwone Fisher Training Day and the two Barbershop films all of which were directed by black artists and most of which starred and were written by blacks as well Leonard examines the issues of representation and opportunity in contemporary cinema In many cases these films which walk a line between confronting racial stereotypes and trafficking in them made a great deal of money while hardly playing to white audiences at all By examining the ways in which they address the American Dream racial progress racial difference blackness whiteness class capitalism and a host of other issues Leonard shows that while certainly there are differences between the grotesque images of years past and those that define today's era the consistency of images across genre and time reflects the lasting power of racism as well as the black community's response to it

Engaging Film Criticism Walter Metz, 2004 Engaging Film Criticism examines recent American cinema in relationship to its imaginative intertexts films from earlier decades that engage similar political and cultural themes This historical encounter provides an unexpected and exciting way of reading popular contemporary films Eclectic pairings include the Schwarzenegger action film True Lies with the Hitchcock classic North by Northwest as well as the lampooned Will Smith comedy Wild Wild West with Buster Keaton's silent feature The General Using a theoretically and historically informed brand of criticism Engaging Film Criticism suggests that today's Hollywood cinema is every bit as worthy of study as the classics

Contemporary African American Cinema Sheril D. Antonio, 2002 Locating contemporary Black filmmaking squarely within the mainstream film industry Antonio film television and new media New York U explores New Jack City Boyz N the Hood Juice Just Another Girl on the I R T and Clockers She argues that these films simultaneously pushed African American political and social aspirations while existing in the space of the classic American gangster genre Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Child in Contemporary Latin American Cinema Deborah Martin, 2018 Contemporary Latin American Cinema Claudia Sandberg, Carolina Rocha, 2018-07-20 Contemporary Latin American Cinema investigates the ways in which neoliberal measures of privatization de regularization and austerity introduced in Latin America during the 1990s have impacted film production and film narratives The collection examines the relationship between economic policies and the films that depict recent transformations in many Latin American countries demonstrating how contemporary Latin American film has not only criticized and resisted but also benefitted from neoliberal advancements Based on films produced in Argentina Bolivia Brazil Chile Colombia Ecuador Mexico and Peru since 2010 the fourteen case studies illustrate neoliberalism's effects from big industries to small national cinemas It also shows the new types of producers that have emerged and the novel patterns of distribution exhibition and consumption that shape and influence the Latin American filmscape Through industry studies reception analyses and close readings this book establishes an informative and accessible text for scholars and students alike
