

A series of classic philosophical texts from Dover

The four pillars of Slavoj Žižek's work are (Lacanian) psychoanalysis, (Hegelian) philosophy, a (Marxist) theory of ideology, and (Christian) theology. The structure of this scholarly edifice is mapped out in the title of The Essential Žižek, four central interventions into each of these fields. The focus of The Sublime Object of Ideology is the importance of Lacan's work to philosophy and contemporary political struggle; the Titchener subject examines German Idealism and the unrepresentable horizon of our thinking; The Puppet Master examines the ideological mechanisms that shape our daily experience; and The Puppet Master explores the emancipatory core of Christianity.

The Sublime Object of Ideology Slavoj Žižek, 1989 In this provocative and original work Slavoj Žižek takes a look at the question of human agency in a postmodern world From the sinking of the Titanic to Hitchcock's Rear Window from the operas of Wagner to science fiction from Alien to the Jewish Joke the author's acute analyses explore the ideological fantasies of wholeness and exclusion which make up human society Žižek takes issue with analysts of the postmodern condition from Habermas to Sloterdijk showing that the idea of a post-ideological world ignores the fact that even if we do not take things seriously we are still doing them Rejecting postmodernism's unified world of surfaces he traces a line of thought from Hegel to Althusser and Lacan in which the human subject is split divided by a deep antagonism which determines social reality and through which ideology operates Linking key psychoanalytical and philosophical concepts to social phenomena such as totalitarianism and racism the book explores the political significance of these fantasies of control In so doing The Sublime Object of Ideology represents a powerful contribution to a psychoanalytical theory of ideology as well as offering persuasive interpretations of a number of contemporary cultural formations

Žižek and Media Studies M. Flisfeder, L. Willis, 2014-04-09 Film media and cultural theorists have long appealed to Lacanian theory in order to discern processes of subjectivization representation and ideological interpellation Here the contributors take up a Žižekian approach to studies of cinema and media raising questions about power ideology sexual difference and enjoyment

Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement: The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non-penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

Dead Letters to Nietzsche, Or the Necromantic Art of Reading Philosophy Joanne Faulkner, 2010-05-18 Dead Letters to Nietzsche examines how writing shapes subjectivity through the example of Nietzsche's reception by his readers including Stanley Rosen David Farrell Krell Georges Bataille Laurence Lampert Pierre Klossowski and Sarah Kofman More precisely Joanne Faulkner finds that the personal identification that these readers form with Nietzsche's texts is an enactment of the kind of identity formation described in Lacanian and Kleinian psychoanalysis This investment of their subjectivity guides their understanding of Nietzsche's project the revaluation of values Not only does this work make a provocative contribution to Nietzsche scholarship but it also opens in an original way broader philosophical questions about how readers come to be invested in a philosophical project and how such investment alters their subjectivity

Heart of

Darkness Joseph Conrad, 2011-03-01 This volume presents the text of the 1921 Heinemann edition of Conrad's classic short novel along with documents that place the work in historical context and critical essays that read Heart of Darkness from several contemporary critical perspectives The text and essays are complemented by biographical and critical introductions bibliographies and a glossary of critical and theoretical terms In this third edition the section of cultural documents and illustrations is entirely new as are two recent exemplary critical essays by Gabrielle McIntire and Tony C Brown that synthesize a variety of current critical approaches Publications of the Modern Language Association of America, 2005
