Proceedings of the ... Annual ACM Symposium on Principles of Distributed Computing, 2005

Proceedings of the Twenty-Second Annual ACM Symposium on Principles of Distributed Computing, 2003 This paper presents an efficient asynchronous protocol to compute RSA inverses with respect to a public RSA modulus N whose factorization is secret and shared among a group of parties Given two numbers x and e the protocol computes y such that $ye \equiv x \pmod{N}$ A synchronous protocol for this task has been presented by Catalano Gennaro and Halevi Eurocrypt 2000 but the standard approach for turning this into an asynchronous protocol would require a Byzantine agreement sub protocol Our protocol adopts their approach but exploits a feature of the problem in order to avoid the use of a Byzantine agreement primitive Hence it leads to efficient asynchronous protocols for threshold signatures and for Byzantine agreement based on the strong RSA assumption without the use of random oracles
